STUDIES

Anti-Ro/SSA Antibodies: Association With a Particulate (Large Speckledlike Thread) Immunofluorescent Nuclear Staining Pattern 335
Douglas J. Wermuth, MD, Milwaukee; William D. Geoghegan, PhD, Robert E. Jordan, MD, Houston
 • The anti-Ro/SSA antibodies and the antibodies producing the particulate nuclear staining are either identical or closely paralleling systems.

Anticentromere Antibody and Immunoglobulin Allotypes in Scleroderma 339
Ze-yi Chen, MD; Joseph A. Fedrick, PhD; Janardan P. Pandey, PhD; Richard Silver, MD; Hildegard R. Maricq, MD; H. Hugh Fudenberg, MD; Richard L. Dobson, MD; Sterling K. Ainsworth, PhD, Charleston, SC
 • Scleroderma patients with centromere antibody had fewer organs involved and less inflammation than patients with other nuclear antibody patterns. Exceptions to this were Raynaud's phenomenon and digital ulceration, which were equal in both groups.

High Titers of Antibodies to Single-Stranded DNA in Linear Scleroderma 345
Vincent Falanga, MD, Thomas A. Medsger, MD, Pittsburgh; Morris Reichlin, MD, Oklahoma City
 • Patients with high titers may constitute a subgroup who have more severe and extensive involvement of skin and underlying tissues.

The Mutagenicity of Dinitrochlorobenzene 348
Homer S. Black, PhD; Fred F. Castrow II, MD; Janette Gerguis, Houston
 • All concentrations tested in the Salmonella plate assay evoked a marked mutagenic response.

A Histopathologic Evaluation of Nevocellular Nevi in Pregnancy 350
Elliott Foucar, MD; Teresa J. Bentley, MD; Douglas W. Laube, MD, Iowa City; Juan Rosai, MD, Minneapolis
 • While mild atypia was more frequently noted in nevi removed from pregnant than nonpregnant women, none of 128 nevi removed from 86 pregnant women showed sufficient histologic changes to be confused with melanoma.

Masked Type I Wheat Allergy: Relation to Exercise-Induced Anaphylaxis 355
Higashi Kushimoto, MD, Toshiyuki Aoki, MD, Osaka, Japan
 • Exercise after ingestion of wheat products induced anaphylaxis or accentuation of urticaria or angioedema in six patients. Exercise or wheat ingestion alone caused no symptoms.

Congenital Erosive and Vesicular Dermatitis Healing With Reticulated Supple Scarring 361
Bernard A. Cohen, MD, Baltimore; Nancy B. Esterly, MD, Philip F. Nelson, MD, Chicago
 • Three children, all born prematurely with lesions present at birth, demonstrated apparently unique neurocutaneous findings.

OBSERVATIONS

Chronic Pain and Scarring From Cement Burns 368
Peter R. Lane, FRCP(Edin), FRCP(C), Daniel J. Hogan, MD, FRCP(C), Saskatoon, Saskatchewan
